Dear Colleague:

I am writing to recommend to you to an excellent physical therapist, Tom Ockler, PT, who maintains an independent practice in Willoughby. Having referred many patients to Tom, I can assure you that he is very skilled at helping to resolve both acute and chronic conditions.

We know that acupuncture can significantly reduce pain. But, many of our patients with musculoskeletal problems come to us with degrees of postural misalignment that would benefit greatly from a comprehensive physical therapy evaluation. Yet, how many times have we heard from patients who go through standard PT that they were not given much one-on-one attention, or given exercises only for the affected area without regard to the underlying alignment issues? Since Tom works only one-on-one with patients, he offers a more comprehensive alternative in a far fewer number of sessions.

Not only have I referred patients to Tom, I have sought his expertise for myself to prevent those subtle postural habits that can come with aging. The exercises he gave me have been immensely effective. Tom's thirty-five years of experience in the field are evident in his compassion, and patient ability to communicate what is amiss and how the exercises will correct the postural problems.

Please consider using Tom as a valuable resource if you want to further enhance your patients' long term results.

Sincerely,

Ann Driscoll, L.Ac.
